DAYTON, Ohio, March 21, 1972 --- The University of Dayton will host and conduct a workshop for study abroad advisors and programmers of universities and colleges in the tri-state area of Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio on Thursday, March 30, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The program, under the direction of Reverend Gabriel Rus, S.M., UD's Study Abroad Advisor, is part of a yearly service in Region VI of the National Association of Foreign Student Affairs.

Conducted in the Kennedy Union, the sessions will be informal and, for the most part, be divided into small, workable groups. The morning program will address itself to "The Duties and Responsibilities of a Study Abroad Advisor/Programmer." The afternoon program should answer the question, "How Do We Fulfill These Duties and Expectations?"

The association co-ordinators from each state will serve as moderators during the discussion sessions. Mr. G. James Haas of Indiana University is the co-ordinator from that state while Mr. John Johnson of the University of Kentucky is the representative from Kentucky. Mr. Donald Edelstein of the University of Cincinnati oversees the Ohio program. These three men, with Father Rus and Mrs. Betty Duncan of Indiana University, committee secretary, form the workshop committee.
